

2020 Executive Mentorship Program Handbook

A Message from the Chamber

Thank you for your participation in our Executive Mentorship Program. As a workforce development initiative of the Capital Region Chamber, the Tech Valley Young Professionals Network (YPN) understands that nothing is more important to the growth of business or the region than attracting and retaining top talent.

The Executive Mentorship Program connects ambitious young professionals with high-level business leaders to support each other's professional and personal development. The success of this program can be attributed to its growing popularity and the dedicated mentors. Since the program's inception, we have matched nearly 1,000 young professionals with local executives. YPN mentees have reported that, thanks to this initiative, they feel more rooted in the community. This is proof that YPN is achieving its goal of grooming and retaining our best and brightest young professionals.

We recognize the value to learning and growth that comes with having a diverse and inclusive program. We strive to increase the diversity of participants and to ensure that the learning environment is equitable, respectful and appreciative of difference. We also strive to develop programming that represents the breadth of our Capital Region community.

We are pleased to present the 2020 Executive Mentorship Handbook for your use throughout your experience. Within this handbook, you will find important dates, guidelines and required and suggested activities. If at any point throughout the program you have questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to Brandi Landy, Director, Talent Development at the Capital Region Chamber, 518.431.1414.

We wish you great success and continued growth within the Tech Valley Region.

Sincerely,

Mark N. Eagan, CCE

President and CEO
Capital Region Chamber

Executive Mentorship Program Overview

What is Mentoring?

History gives many examples of the value of mentoring. The most famous instance was chronicled by Homer in The Odyssey. Homer tells us that around 1200 BC, the adventurer Odysseus made ready to leave for the siege of Troy. Before sailing, he appointed a guardian to his household. For the next 10 years, this guardian acted faithfully as a teacher, advisor, friend and surrogate father to Telemachus, son of Odysseus. The mythical guardian's name was Mentor.

Homer's story reflects one of the oldest attempts by a society to facilitate mentoring. The Greeks based these relationships on a basic principle of human survival: people learn skills, culture and values directly from other people whom they look up to or admire.

"As expected, as the mentor I got as much out of this as I think the mentee did. It was very rewarding to see the two of us come from different perspectives on things and become better leaders as an outcome."

-Paul Milton, President and CEO, Ellis Medicine

YPN Executive Mentorship

The Executive Mentorship Program is a cornerstone of YPN's goal of developing the skills of young professionals. YPN began in 2004, and the Executive Mentorship Program soon followed.

The Executive Mentorship Program's mission is to strengthen the Capital Region workforce through pairing young professionals with experienced and successful individuals in our community. This program provides both parties the opportunity for personal and professional development, growth, fulfillment, and empowerment.

This program connects young professionals with accomplished professionals from a broad array of commercial, nonprofit and governmental backgrounds. As a mentor, you will help shape a young professional's future by sharing your knowledge and providing a firsthand glimpse of life and work in Tech Valley. As a mentee, you will get the insight and guidance from an experienced professional. At the conclusion of the program, mentors and mentees often find that the learning has been mutual and that the relationship has grown in ways not foreseen at the start.

In order to establish a successful relationship, mentors and mentees need to be:

- Willing to be responsible for their own growth and development
- Receptive to feedback and coaching
- Self-aware
- Positive
- Goal-oriented
- Open and honest with each other

5 Tips for a Successful Mentor/Mentee Relationship

- 1. Define expectations.

Be clear and honest about what you want to get out of the program. Establish realistic goals for the relationship and review them throughout the program. Set up a system to measure achievement and manage expectations.
- 2. Keep communication open.

Consistent communication is one of the most important building blocks for a successful mentee/mentor relationship. Establish communication methods and frequency of contact from the beginning. Encourage open communication, and act as resources for one another.
- 3. Actively participate.

Commit to actively meeting with your mentee or mentor at least six times throughout the program. We suggest that you consider making scheduled appointments on a regular basis, and attend the mentorship events. Approach your conversations with ideas/topics you would like to discuss, and be prepared to learn from one another. Share knowledge, personal experiences and advice. Offer suggestions and feedback and encourage one another to explore new ways of thinking and strategizing.
- 4. Be reliable and consistent.

Mentoring takes time and implies sacrifices for both the mentee and mentor. Be respectful of each other's time. The more consistent you are, the more you will be trusted.
- 5. Maintain respect and express gratitude.

Uphold core relationship values including privacy, confidentiality, honesty and integrity. Listen to the feedback provided. Be kind and considerate. Be supportive and recognize the progress made to achieve your goals.

A great way to further build our community!"
