Consumer Directed Choices

Blaise Bryant is the Communications and Outreach Associate at Consumer Directed Choices in Albany. Blaise promotes the Consumer Directed Personal Assistance Program which allows seniors and people with disabilities to take charge of their home and personal care needs. Blaise is also the liaison for the Tech Valley YPN Programming and Communications committees. He is utilizing his podcasting expertise in creating and launching a podcast for young professionals in the 518. Blaise is the Vice President of Membership for the Stratton VA Toastmasters, and Vice President of Podcasting for the American Marketing Association/NY Capital Region Chapter. Blaise attended The College of Saint Rose, where he graduated with a B.A. in Communications in 2014. When he's not working or volunteering in the community, Blaise is either putting together his daily history podcast, watching sporting events, or spending time with his girlfriend Erin.
