

JENNIFER JERUSSI

Union College

Jenn Lykins serves as the Director of Fraternity and Sorority Life at Union College, where she has worked since relocating to the Capital Region in 2015. Jenn has also worked in Residential Life at Union College and currently serves as a Title IX investigator for the institution.

Outside of her full-time role, Jenn is very involved in the field of Higher Education. Most notably, she served on the board for the College Student Personnel Association of New York State from 2016-2018. Jenn also volunteers with national fraternal organizations in various capacities, including the development leadership curriculum and advising collegiate chapters.

Jenn received a B.S. in Adolescent Education and English from the State University of New York at New Paltz in 2013. Jenn also completed her M.Ed. in 2015 at the University at Buffalo in Higher Education Administration.